

WEEK 8 ASSIGNMENT 8 revised

(1) In the context of Partition, refugee experience is not shaped by _____.

- A. Government policies and measures
- B. Caste and class affiliation
- C. Historical context of migration

D. Physiognomic traits*

(2) Refugee as a category is essentially the _____.

A. able-bodied male*

- B. Adult female
- C. Older populace
- D. Infirm populace

(3) According to Ravinder Kaur, the refugee card was used as a symbol of _____.

- A. independence

B. concession*

- C. self-rehabilitation
- D. affluence

(4) Although citizenship was the end goal for the Indian government and the refugees, the latter retained their refugee identity as a _____.

- A. national belonging
- B. gender marker
- C. social status

D. political choice*

(5) The core principle of the official resettlement policy was _____.

- A. government welfarist schemes
- B. total exchange of population
- C. state-sponsored rehabilitation

D. self-rehabilitation*

(6) Apart from fear of physical harm, anxiety about _____ acted as an incentive in the East Bengali bhadralok's decision to migrate to West Bengal.

- A. loss of job

B. loss of social standing*

- C. loss of health

D. loss of national identity

(7) _____ is set against the backdrop of Second World War and the Communal riots of 1964 in some parts of India and East Pakistan (now Bangladesh)

A. The Shadow Lines*

B. The Calcutta Chromosomes

C. The Other Side of Silence

D. None

(8) What was introduced by the Indian Government in 1956 to control refugees by regulating it as the authorized migration?

A. Citizenship Card

B. Refugee Card

C. Migration Certificate*

D. None of these

(9) The article Partition, Migration and Refugees written by Sarah Ansari deals with

A. The disorientation of diaspora cultures towards lost origin or homelands.

B. Commemorative mechanisms which help the refugees to recreate their lost spaces.

C. Middle-class Bengali Hindu immigrants as the primary articulators of melancholic sentiments of Partition.

D. The ethnic tensions between the migrants in Sindh and the local population in Punjab.*

(10) A large number of refugees, who were deported to Dandakaranya experienced a _____ environment.

A. atrocious

B. hostile*

C. advantageous

D. productive